EARL WHITE DIED

SUCCUMBED AT 11 O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT TO A WOUND IN HIS HEAD.

NEVER REGAINED CONSCIOUSNESS

Was Operated Upon Wednesday Afternoon and Three-Inch Stubble Removed From His Brain—Funeral Tomorrow.

Earl White, the 21-year-old son of J. M. White, engineer at the plant of the Ideal Laundry company, who was found by the side of the Missouri Pacific right-of-way two miles west of Tipton Wednesday afternoon, as chronicled in yesterday's Democrat-Sentinel, died from his wound at the home of his parents, 911 East Third street, at 11 o'clock last night.

Young White, who was operated upon at the City hospital last afternoon, when the surgeons found a three-inch stubble lodged against the brain, never regained consciousness from the time of the operation to his death.

White, as previously told in this paper, left Sedalia Tuesday evening to fish between Otterville and Clifton City. He wandered away from the path, so he told a physician at Tipton shortly after he was found, and fell on a stubble by the Missouri Pacific tracks near Tipton.

The stubble penetrated his head, between the nose and right eye, causing the optic to protrude onto the cheek. He was brought here and removed to the City hospital, where he was operated upon, but the condition of the patient was so critical that no hope was entertained for his recovery.

Young White is survived by his father and mother, one brother, Jesse C. White, and three sisters, as follows: Mrs. Lude Almsworth, Bessie and Ethel White.

Funeral services will be conducted at the family residence at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. R. C. Miller, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

CALLED THE POLICE

Six Men Disturbed the Peace of Mrs. Coughlin, Wife of a Shop Employee

Last night at 8:30 o'clock the police and sheriff were called to the home of M. Coughlin, a Missouri Pacific machinist's helper, 1526 East Fifth street.

He was at work at the shops last night when six men gathered opposite his home and by loud talk and remarks attracted the attention of Mrs. Coughlin, who was in the house. Mrs. Coughlin appeared on the front porch and told the men that her husband was not at home but was at his work.

Instantly some one in the crowd discharged a revolver several times, presumably to frighten Mrs. Coughlin. Mrs. Coughlin then went to the telephone and notified the shops of her trouble and some one at that place called Officer W. S. Murphy, who was dispatched to the home and was followed afterwards by Sheriff Henderson and two deputies.

When the officers arrived the disturbers had disappeared, but Officer Murphy remained at the home until the midnight hour to prevent any trouble, but the men did not put in a second appearance.

None of the men in the crowd could be identified and as a consequence no arrests have been made.

DON'T LIKE LAWS

TONSORIAL ARTIST OBJECTS TO SOME RECENT FREAK LEGISLATION.

WHY AND WHEREFORE EXPLAINED

Says Some of the Acts Enjoined Are the Very Ones a Sensible Barber Won't Do if He Has Self-Respect.

A tonsorial artist, who objects to some of the recent freak law recently passed governing the craft, criticizes very cleverly this legislation in a communication to the Journeymen Barber, the official organ of the trade.

Says this wielder of the razor and shears:

Inclosed you will please find a clipping from one of our daily papers, and if you can find room for it in our next publication, together with this letter, I wish you would kindly do so, in order that it may bring some of our brothers to understand why we are forced to partake of the very necessary barber law:

"Waterloo, Neb., April 25.—An ordinance has been passed by the city council and signed by the mayor, and is effective at once, which among other things, regulates matters relative to the cleanliness of barber shops, and then provides:

"It shall be unlawful for any barber in this town to eat onions between 7 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m. No barber while shaving a customer shall insert his thumb or

MORE TEDDY TALK

ENGLISH PAPERS THINK ROOSEVELT SHOWED BAD TASTE, TO SAY THE LEAST.

SHOULDN'T HAVE "BUTTED IN"

Britons Think the Way They Govern Other Lands Is Something With Which the Former President Has Nothing to Do.

London, June 2.—Mr. Roosevelt's speech at Guild hall Tuesday continued today to be the sensation of newspapers throughout the country.

The editorial comments on his startling utterances concerning British rule in Egypt were influenced as a rule by partisanship. The Conservative press defends the conclusions drawn by the American statesman, while the Liberal papers oppose his deductions with equal seriousness.

But outside the questions of fact set forth, the newspapers almost without exception challenge the propriety of a foreign guest of the city criticising the colonial policy of the empire. Of the comments of the Conservative press the following are samples:

The Globe: It was not the time nor the place nor was the ex-president the person to display this particular form of interest in the business of his hosts.

The Pall Mall Gazette: The unconventional is justified only by success. If he prefers realities to the proprieties where vital interests are concerned, so does the judgment of the British people.

The Standard: That he should lay hands on one of the nation's private and particular political subjects seemed a social crime, not far from sacrilege, but in reading from the speech carefully, there is found nothing of which to complain.

Of the Liberal papers the Westminster Gazette questions the necessity and disagrees with the conclusions of the speech.

The Star says that "Mr. Roosevelt should learn that he is not exempt from the customs of civilized nations."

Mr. Roosevelt passed yesterday quietly. He visited the national gallery during the forenoon and had luncheon with several men prominent in the Irish-Nationalist party. The former president will be a guest over night at the country home of Frederick C. Selo.

There were sixteen leading Nationalists at the luncheon and Mr. Roosevelt had an intimate discussion of Irish affairs with them. Only two speeches were made, one of welcome by John Redmond and the other a humorous reply by the former president.

Before his departure from London, Mr. Roosevelt will be entertained by King George. His majesty will receive his guest, not in the capacity of special ambassador to the funeral of the late King Edward, but as a distinguished visitor.

WILL SOON BEGIN

EVERYTHING READY TO START THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING BOOM.

MORE THAN 150 FORMOST CITIZENS

Have Signed a Willingness to Enter This Campaign as Voluntary Enthusiastic Workers in a Great Cause.

With all preliminary work ended and the election of members of the executive committee completed, Sedalia will soon become the center of a building campaign of generosity which will mark a new era for the city in the raising of funds in a limited time.

Today hundreds of attractive posters can be seen prominently displayed in store windows and other conspicuous places, showing exterior and interior views of a $50,000 Y. M. C. A. building at Ashabula, Ohio, a city of only 17,000 population. "Printed in large red letters are the words, "Sedalia can have a Y. M. C. A. building like this for $50,000. Various half-tones of the several amusement and educational departments are shown, as well as bath rooms, dormitories, dining rooms, reception room, etc. It is the desire of every public-spirited citizen of Sedalia, who is thoroughly interested in the prosperous growth of the city to erect such an edifice for the men, young men and boys of the city.

To those who are unacquainted with the work of the Young Men's Christian association it may be well to refer briefly to just what the association really means to not only its members, but to everyone in the entire community.

It is the best far sighted investment in the greatest undeveloped resources of the world—young men.

It is a wise and economical enlistment of men, young men and boys in the work they themselves have evolved.

It is an alluring and practical union of the club, athletics, education, religion and order—the most powerful attributes known for physical, mental and spiritual development of men.

It is a perpetual and all inclusive specialization of practical and conservative men through an experience of over sixty years in nearly eight thousand places, and solves the vital and urgent situation of cultivation of character and manly instincts.

It is a philanthropic and self interested provision of an all-around opportunity for men of today and the men of tomorrow.

It provides a club house. Its members fill it and close resorts of questionable or degrading character through lack of patronage.

It provides a gymnasium, its members use it and put increased health and vitality into their day's work.

It provides a night school. All who join it gain and keep the positions of greater efficiency to themselves and fellow men.

It invests money and gets manhood. Its investments are human and its dividends divine.

Honestly, do you not desire to give your financial support for a cause whose influence is so far-reaching in its scope, and which pays perpetual dividends in the characters of men who shall solve the great problems of humanity in Sedalia.

The following will show to some extent what the Y. M. C. A. in Sedalia has already accomplished in a single year in this city.

Consider that, working under great disadvantages, in quarters wholly unsuited to its needs, this work has been done, and you then try to figure the wonderful possibilities of the association when properly housed in a building of its own.

What was done by Sedalia Young

Men's Christian Association in one year:

Over 500 men and boys enrolled in membership.

Average daily attendance in rooms, 170.

Average daily attendance in bath rooms and gymnasium, 55.

Thirty-seven religious meetings held in the rooms; attendance, 1480.

Three open air meetings.

Thirty-two services outside building; attendance, 3370.

One class in personal work.

Fifteen men accepted Christ as their personal Savior.

Lodgings furnished for 67 unfortunate men and boys.

EIGHT MILLIONS

THAT'S WHAT THE EL TIGRE MINE IN MEXICO WILL BRING IN SALE.

IT IS LOCATED IN MEXICO

Kansas City Men Are Chief Owners and Will Make a Fortune in the Deal—Rich Vein Recently Struck.

San Antonio, Texas, June 2.—Within a week the sale of the El Tigre gold mine in Mexico to American capitalists will be consummated. The mine is located in the Nacozari district in the state of Sonora, about thirty miles from the station of Ysabal. The company which will acquire the property is composed chiefly of Kansas City men, among whom are the following: E. S. Sooy, president, and J. D. Seltz, John Kelley, E. D. Fisher, H. Vanderslice, W. A. Moses, C. E. Grannies, O. V. Dodge, H. M. Evans, B. A. Seltz, A. C. Stewart, D. J. Haff and D. J. Dean, directors.

The mine has been in the market for some time at prices fluctuating around $5,000,000, but the recent strike of a very rich vein sent up the price by $3,000,000 and $8,000,000 gold will be paid by the prospective purchasers. So far the mine has produced gold and silver to the value of $3,442,683, having been put in operation late in 1903. The net profit in 1909, after deducting every expense, was $586,000, a figure which exceeds by $200,000 all previous records made by its management. Dividends paid last year amounted to $409,500 gold.

It is understood that the new owners of the property will enlarge the reduction plant of the mine considerably and that hereafter 500 tons of quartz will be handled per day, one-half of which will be smelted while the other half will be cyanided. Work has already begun on a 1,000 horse-power steam plant and an electric road will be built from the mine to Ysabal.

The Nacozari mining district is one of the richest in Mexico. Some of its deposits were worked by the Anahuans and the Aztecs and the country is strewn with ruins of palatial residences once occupied by the Spaniards and Mexicans who followed the Indians in their quest after wealth, but who soon exhausted the top values. Unstable political conditions in the country, Indian raids and competition with modern mining methods caused the later owners to dispose of their holdings to outsiders.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

reckons mistakes in others.—Anon.

REVOLUTION IMPENDING.

The burning words of Champ Clark from his place in the house and the burning arguments of Eugene N.
Foss, from his place in the same hall, a short time ago, both in denunciation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff, have sent a shiver down the spinal column of the grand larceny piece of legislation.

Mr. Foss is a New England manufacturer, who, until recently, has been a republican, but who, after a careful study of the subject under want a complete change of view on tariff policy. A vacancy by the death of the republican member who represented his district in congress required a special election and the democrats nominated Mr. Foss for the place.

The result of the election showed a phenomenal revolution in politics in a former hotbed of tariff protection the democrats made a gain of over 10,000 votes above the result in the last congressional election. Mr.
Foss still calls for protection, but this time it is for protection against the tariff.

From this time on, Massachusetts may be placed in the column of anti-tariff states. And it is not impossible that four other New England states will also this fall go over, Aldrich to the contrary, notwithstanding.

AMONG THE PROFESH.

One of the New York morning papers with a reputation for being well edited is evidently cultivating a tone of extreme politeness to members of the burger fraternity.

"While absent on a professional call yesterday afternoon burglars broke into the home of Dr. Moot D. Cannon—" began the opening sentence of that paper's account of a sensational burglary and double murder committed the day before.

This is probably the first time that burglars, following their criminal vocation, were spoken of as being "absent on a professional call." Even Lord Chesterfield could not have improved upon such politeness.

THE INSURGENT.

Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, who so greatly distinguished himself in the debate on the Payne-Aldrich tariff, paid a just tribute to the insurgents in congress in an address to the American Civic alliance in New York.

He said it required no small degree of courage on the part of these republicans to be insurgents. Insurgency, in short, is "rebellion against machine politics." And of that kind of rebellion there can not be too much in the country at the present juncture of political affairs.

THE TRUST-BUSTER.

The Mail Order Journal opines that advertising is the only genuine trust-buster. It says:

If you want to be sure that your business is not backed into the corner by some big corporation, your insurance lies in advertising.

Because advertising is the direct method of going straight to the consumer, your final customer.

But if you stop and hesitate you may wake up to find that some one else has come in and reaped your harvest.

And the beauty about it is that you can commence small, in a restricted territory, and increase gradually as your means justify.

The people are to know that the high cost of living is not confined to individuals. The government is experiencing it, too. The two new battleships just provided for, for instance, will cost over $23,000,000 when completed. Ten years ago two first class battleships were built for $9,000,000. The naval appropriation bill this year authorized a total expenditure of $134,000,000. Thirty years ago the total naval appropriation was $13,536,000, about one-tenth as much as this year. It is only a few short months since Mr. Taft was cautioning congress on the need for economy. Economy of the kind exhibited in the ratio of increase in naval expenditures in the last generation, if continued, will bankrupt the nation in a few more years.

"Comparisons are odious," but when we think of President Taft delegating one Lawler to act for him in a matter of vital importance and telling him to "write it as if you were president," because he (Taft) was about to start on a political fence-fixing tour and hadn't time to attend to affairs of state, we can't help remembering that the new socialist mayor of Milwaukee, when offered $250 a day to deliver a number of lectures this summer, declined the offer on the ground that his whole time belongs to the city that pays him a salary, and that he proposes to

That Scranton, Pa., man who pro-platform pledges into accomplished facts. One would be as marvelous as the other.

A joke's a joke, but when Presi-

a right to feel that the fun is being carried too far.

I don't know much of Darwin and the scientific game I don't know whether Adam or Eve was most to blame; I'm sure I do not comprehend God's universal plan; but my philosophy is this: Do all the good you can. I never had much schooling, my thoughts come rather slow;
but I can look square at the world and tell it where to go. There's lots of things the preachers say that I can't understand; but I can speak the cheering word and lend the helping hand. Theology ain't in my line
—I never could get wise to all that boundless future beyond the starlit skies, and my religion is to give a smile for every frown; to give a boost for every knock, and help the man that's down.—J. C. Bradshaw.

A WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

Marriage of Grover Cleveland to Frances Folsom 24 Years Ago Today.

The marriage of President Grover Cleveland and Miss Frances Folsom, which occurred at the White House,
Washington, D. C., June 2, 1886, possessed a romantic interest to the whole world, and was perhaps the most brilliant and interesting social event ever held in that historic mansion, although there had been eight weddings previously celebrated at the White House, this was the first in which the president had been one of the principals.

The enterprising press writers of that day had been busy before the day of the wedding. They described the departure of Miss Folsom from New York in a special car on the evening of the first, with eleven large trunks of wedding finery. When the bride-to-be arrived in Washington she and her mother were guests of Miss Rose Cleveland, the sister of the president, who was then the official mistress of the White House. The wedding ceremony took place just at nightfall. They day had been cloudy, but a short time before evening the clouds parted and the sun came out and smiled a welcome. The guests, who included only the president's official family and the intimate friends of the bride and groom, began to arrive at 6:30 and were received by Miss Cleveland.

The Blue room, where the marriage took place, and the East room, which is the general reception room of the White House, were a mass of nodding palms and tropical plants.

President Cleveland was opposed to ostentatious display, so there was no procession of bride's maids and flower girls. He and Miss Folsom entered the room unattended, and the Rev. Dr. Byron G. Sunderland, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

Shortly afterward President and Mrs. Cleveland entered their carriage and were driven to a special train, eluding the vigilant reporters by leaving the White House grounds through a rear gate, near the Washington monument, one which was seldom used.

Their honeymoon was spent at Deer Park, a little summer resort in the Maryland mountains.

All the word seemed to take an interest in the wedding, and compliments were cable from nearly every country, among them being one from Queen Victoria. The popular poem at that time was one ending with these lines:

"The whole world loveth a lover
The old song sayeth always; and so art thou enshrined. Oh Grover, in the nation's heart today."

Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical disease, requires a constitutional treatment.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of

of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have

FOR UNEMPLOYED

LABOR COMMISSIONER SAYS THE RICH SHOULD PROVIDE JOBS FOR THE IDLE.

CRIME WOULD THEN BE LESSEMED

He Advocates the Establishment of Five More Branch Stations of Free Employment Bureaus Throughout the State.

If all men willing to work were given employment in which they could earn an honest living, child and woman labor, as well as much of the crime now prevalent, would disappear, is the opinion expressed by J. C. A. Hiller, Missouri state commissioner of labor, in the 1909 Red Book of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, now being distributed from the Jefferson City office.

"With the land full of idle but willing hands and the country full of resources and wealth, there is no reason," he says, "why there should not be work for all who need and are anxious to get it. Wealthy men and women with plenty of unoccupied time on the hands could use their money and spare moments to no better advantage than to plan how to create work for those who need it and are willing to toil hard and long for a living.

"In this vast country of ours there is never a time, no matter how much prosperity prevails, when thousands are not out of employment—thousands of men and women who are honest, constantly showing their gratitude in all ways for being given an opportunity to live. Crime, at least that part due to idleness brought on by cold and starvation, would be greatly reduced by giving work to those who want to work, and the cause of civilization would make great progress."

Wants Branch Stations.

The report advocates the establishment of branches of the free employment bureau at Cape Girardeau, Sedalia, Springfield, Hannibal and Joplin, in addition to the branches now maintained at St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph and recommends a private commission of wealthy and public spirited men and women for every town in the state to co-operate with the state bureau. The cost of the five additional branches would be not more than $500 a month, half of which could be saved from the cost of maintaining the other branches by reason of the saving in traveling expenses and salaries of statisticians, which must now be sent out for the compilation of statistical data in the vicinity of each proposed new station.

There were 11,359 applicants for jobs last year, of which 7,114 were placed in good positions free of cost. Applicants for help were far more numerous than applicants for positions, but the job and the right man did not meet in all cases, and many applications for jobs and for help remained unsatisfied. In all 25,468 applied for help, 23,302 for men and 1,884 for women. The largest number of applicants for help were from the harvest fields, 16,500 men being asked for. This was about the only class in which every applicant for a job was placed, 1371 men being sent to the fields. Applications for positions as laborers were numerous, numbering 3,446, of which 2,152 were satisfied. There were 3,254 applications for labor help, of which 2,188 were satisfied.

The one woman porter who asked for a job failed to get it, as did also a woman looking for professional employment and one who wanted to be a lady's maid. The only kinds of help asked for in which there were no applicants were women telegraph operators, women printers, women gardeners and women dairy helpers.

Statistics of Applications.

Following are some of the positions obtained: Bakers, 15; blacksmiths, 8; boys, 125; carpenters, 73; cooks, male 121, female 73; firemen and engineers, 45; farm help, not including harvest hands, male 695, female 38; factory help, male 47, female 18; gardeners, 44; grocery clerks, 19; hotel and restaurant help, male 523, female 338; housework, male 52, female 327; janitors, porters, watchmen, 135; mechanics, 40; office help, men 19, women 9; nurses, women 18; painters and paper hangers, 26; private places, men, 83, women 4; quarrymen, 18; sales people and solicitors, men 58, women 7; stenographers, men 2, women 10; teamsters, 225; waiters, 122; waitresses, 81; washerwomen, 32.

SENSOR BATHING SUITS

Windy City People Must Wear Only Those That Fit All Regulations.

Chicago, June 2.—With the coming of June and the bathing season the police have adopted strict regulations for the costumes to be worn on the beaches of the Windy City. In past years many fair bathers have provided much instruction and entertained for students of anatomy, but this year the police will see to it that all such displays of feminine charms are kept within the bounds of respectability.

Chicago's wide sandy beaches, chiefly along the north shore, are within a short distance of residence districts, and on hot days they are crowded with thousands of bathers. The rules governing costumes, laid down by Chief of Police Steward, follow:

Extremely bizarre costumes must not be worn.

Women who wear costumes that they do not care to get wet must have them made of modest design or they will be ordered off the sands.

Men who appear on the sands merely to pose as athletes will be ordered away.

Bloomers without skirts will not be tolerated.

FOUR TIMES MARRIED

Col. John Kingston, of Southwest Missouri, 56 Years Old.

Nevada, Mo., June 2.—Married four times in fifty-six years and three times in three years, the first time to a woman twenty years his senior, with whose son he enlisted as a Confederate volunteer in the Civil war, the second time to a woman twenty-one years his junior, the third time to a woman seventeen years his junior and the fourth time to a woman whose age corresponds with that of wife No. 3, has been the unique matrimonial experience of Col. John Kingston, 76 years old, who today married Miss Lulu Bell Kinsey, of Nevada. His last two marriage ventures were made since 1907. Each of his former wives is dead.

Colonel Kingston is wealthy, and has been general manager of the Granby company's mining lands at Granby, Mo., since 1867. He is a thirty-second degree Mason, and is widely known in Southwest Missouri.

Feet Tired—So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well, No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used."—A. F. Dretzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

finger in the said customer's mouth; shall not discuss the gossip of the town and shall not use tobacco while working over a chair; shall not insist upon a customer having his neck shaved or his hair singed.

"A violation of any of the provisions shall subject the barber to arrest and a fine of not less than $5 for each and every offense."

The article will explain itself, but nevertheless I cannot refrain from making a few remarks.

To begin with the places of business in question must be very poorly regulated and unsanitary beyond perception.

Above all things who makes the laws governing that which we eat? I wonder if the maker of these laws are as particular as to what they eat and drink previous to placing themselves under the sensitive nostrils of the barber who is to wait upon them, doubly earning the meager existence he obtains by so doing. And according to this the barber is at liberty to eat a peck of onions should he wish at 6:45 a. m. and go to work at 7.

Now, who ever heard of a barber sticking his thumb or finger in the mouths of those he works on? I never did and what is more, I fear death by convulsions too badly to run any risk of being bitten by some of the poorly kept teeth which shine at you from between lips that part a mustache and chin whiskers that are matted with tobacco juice and filth left undisturbed by their wearer.

Then, too, if my finger were to slip into the mouth, what profession would you turn to to find cleaner fingers than those of a barber?

They shall not chew tobacco while at work. I do not approve of that myself, nor do I like to stop my work seven times while working on a man to allow him to cough up a lung and squirt out a quart of tobacco juice.

They shall not talk on the topics of the town. I do not believe any sane man will willingly talk on a subject detrimental to himself or the business of his employer, and when you deprive a man of the privilege of talking you are going beyond the Maker who bestowed upon us this one of all the seven senses, a pleasure to behold.

True, one says things at times whether they are the truth or a bare falsehood, that will sometimes hurt someone's feelings. If that be the case with me, or anyone else engaged in this profession, I am sure we would be willing to take our trimming at his hands, if he were able, any time.

Town topics are to talk on, no matter what town, but the wise man knows when there is any one present who would not like to hear what you have to say.

Shall not ask a customer whether or not he wants his neck shaved or his hair singed. Would to God they were in this town. I suppose the formulator of this one clause is a gent's furnishing goods man. You go into his store to buy a pair of shoes or any other article he has for sale, is he going to let you go out of there without trying to sell you a necktie? I should certainly say not. He knows he is a good salesman and before you leave he intends to sell you something you did not come after. I say he does not need a fine—all he needs is some one to tell him where to head in.

I can not conceive of the conditions existing in this Nebraska village. but it is my intention to go east on a business and pleasure trip combined this fall, and I shall certainly go out of my way to learn the cause of its becoming necessary for men on this earth to step between his fellow man, the laws of God, nature and freedom.

Hoping this will not take too much of our time and space and hoping it will appear in your next issue, and one copy be mailed to the mayor of Waterloo, Neb.—A. Kennison.

PROF. DRISKELL ANNOUNCES

Popular Educator Candidate for Nomination for Circuit Clerk.

The Democrat-Sentinel today contains the announcement of George W. Driskell as a candidate for the democratic nomination for clerk of the circuit court, subject to the action of the primary.

George W. Driskell is too well and favorably known to need any words of commendation to the people in placing his name before them as a candidate for public office. Born and reared in Pettis county and living here during all the years of his life, his career has been as an open book, that all might read.

For twenty-one years he taught in the public schools of the county and made a record for efficiency and faithfulness of which any man might well be proud, and for six years he filled the position of superintendent of schools in such a manner as to win the unqualified approval of teachers, pupils and the public generally.

With both a public and private record unblemished and unstained, he enters the race with the confidence of the people from whom he is asking suffrage.

Always a democrat, from conviction and belief, and always faithful to its principles, his party can well honor itself by honoring him, and if he wins the nomination he will undoubtedly add an element of strength to the ticket not to be overlooked. If elected he would care for the duties of the office with the same carefulness and dignity that has characterized his acts in all the places to which he has in the past been called.

A MISSOURI IDEA

ing prepared and compiled under the direction of Commissioner Hiller, will contain a lengthy illustrated article on the "Missouri meerschaum pipe" industry. The figures now on hand reveal that the 1909 production of the factories which have made returns sold for $448,454, as compared with $431,810 for the year 1908. The early reports for 1910 indicate that the production this year will be worth $475,000. These figures include the value not alone of the cob pipes, but also all wooden ones, the extra stems and the cleaners. At retail these pipes sell for from 5 cents up to 50 cents, according to the design, finish and material the stem is made of.

If their are any corn cob pipe factories outside of Missouri their production is so small that their state labor bureaus do not herald the fact to the world. Franklin county is the center of the corn cob pipe industry of the world. Its output alone for 1909 consisted of 24,423,300 of "Missouri meerschaums," which is nearly as much as the whole state produced in 1908. In addition, 1,881,484 extra stems and 55,872 wooden pipes came from there.

Many Women Employed.

The process of converting a corn-cob, rough and crude, as every one knows it to be, into the highly finished and pretty "Missouri meerschaum," with either a bone or amber mouthpiece worth from 10 cents to a quarter of a dollar, is highly interesting, requiring much delicate and rapid handling, and many intricate and fast revolving machines. The workers are highly skilled, intelligent and so keen sighted that no damaged pipe bowl ever passes beyond each individual machine, regardless of the vast number turned out hourly. They enjoy the work and take great pains in producing a perfect pipe, realizing that the fame of the "Missouri meerschaum" depends upon their quick, deft fingers. Time has made each so skillful that accidents seldom occur.

Each pipe goes through about a hundred operations and handlings before it is ready to be sent to the smoking room, where the finishing touches, such as labeling, sorting and placing in pasteboard boxes, is done by young, neat damsels, with rosy cheeks, flashing eyes and nimble fingers. All the machine work is done by male workers, each having his own little part to do. Some run machines which in the fraction of a second cut the cob into the first rough size; others operate the borsers, which in a flash excavate the bowl; others have charge of the piece of mechanism that cuts the hole for the stem, and still others manipulate sanding, smoothing, plastering, staining and varnishing machines.

Statistical Facts.

In all, according to the figures of Supervising Statistician A. T. Edmonston, of the bureau of labor statistics, the seven factories which reported for 1909 employed 301 male workers and 52 female, who drew in course of that year $137,327 in salaries and wages. The raw material and supplies required to produce pipes worth $484,454 cost $199,981, most of which sum went to farmers for cobs which formerly were considered useless and either burned as fuel or used to fill swamp lands.

Invested in grounds, buildings, machinery, fixtures, etc., the seven factories reported $199,414, a gain in working capital of about $40,000 over 1908. There was paid out for rent, taxes and insurance $2,827 and for other miscellaneous purposes $59,410.

Missouri meerschaum pipes are used the world over, being as familiar on the streets of cities of Norway and Sweden, Australia, Germany, South Africa, New Zealand, not to mention England and Ireland, as they are in St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago and other American metropolises. A corn cob pipe may not strike the casual observer as worthy of consideration until it is known that they are made of a commodity which was once considered to be possessed of no value at all—the ordinary corn cob—an article once so worthless that it was a serious question of how to cheaply and quickly rid the farm of it. After this reflection the observer, if he has ever been fortunate enough to taste of the sweetness of a "Missouri Meerschaum," can catch the enthusiasm of the poet who sang: "The pipe that grows in the hayfield, where I so yearn to be, The old Missouri meerschaum, lads, and that's the smoke for me."

The following tables give the number of corn cob pipes produced in Missouri since 1904 and the value of the total pipe production:

1904.....	25,000,000	$417,881
1905.....	24,920,532	409,179
1906.....	26,206,934	431,901
1907.....	24,481,824	472,070
1908.....	24,671,460	431,810
1909.....	27,733,260	448,454

In six years Missouri pipe factories have marketed 153,014,010 corn cob pipes, and their entire output sold for $2,566,295—all from a side line.

Oldest Land in the World.

Stretching across Canada, north of the St. Lawrence, and ending in the regions about the source of the Mississippi, is a range of low granite hills called the Laurentian Highlands.
These hills are really mountains that are almost worn out, for they are the oldest land in America, and, according to Agassiz, the oldest in the world.
In the days when there was nothing but water on the face of the globe, these mountains came up—a long island of primitive rock with universal ocean chafing against its shores.
None of the other continents had put in their appearance at the time America was thus looking up. The United States began to come to light by the gradual uplifting of this land to the north and the appearance of the tops of the Alleghenies, which were the next in order. Later the Rockies started up. The United States grew southward from Wisconsin and westward from the Blue Ridge. An early view of the country would have showed a large island which is now northern Wisconsin, and a long thin tongue of this primitive rock sticking down from Canada into Minnesota, and these two growing states looking out over the waters at the mere beginnings of mountain ranges east and west. They were waiting for the rest

REFUSED TO REWED PAIR

Still Husband and Wife Despite Divorce, Priest Tells Them.Pawtucket, R. I., June 2.—Last March Mrs. Robert Berndt, wife of a wealthy contractor of this city, obtained a divorce from her husband on the ground of extreme cruelty.
This morning the couple obtained a marriage license, but when they applied to Father Lowney to ratify the knot the priest refused, declaring that the ceremony was entirely unnecessary, the Catholic church, he said, still recognized them as husband and wife in spite of the court decrees. He could give them his blessing, he said, and he did, after which Mr. and Mrs. Berndt departed.Immediately after her divorce, Mrs. Berndt resumed her maiden name, Eva C. Cheatham, and went on the stage as a chorus girl. Her husband followed and finally succeeded in winning her back.

TWENTY NATIONS IN CONFERENCE

Meeting in Berlin to Formulate Plans for the Preservation of Species in All the Earth—
Uncle Sam to Help.

New York, June 2.—To formulate plans for the protection and preservation of the bird species of all the earth, representatives of twenty of the most powerful nations are reported here today to be conferring at the fifth International Ornithological congress in Berlin. Every one of the world powers has sent its delegate to take part in these deliberations upon the pressing problem of saving the economically valuable bird life of the globe, according to advices just received at the headquarters of the National Association of Audubon Societies in this city. As the result of this international conference, it is expected that concerted action will be taken by the nations to save the birds of sea and land, whose extermination threatens the health and agricultural prosperity of every people.

Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Russia, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Austria-Hungary, Holland and Belgium are with the United States taking an active part in the international discussion of bird protection at the German capital. As the accredited representative of this government, William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, is attending the conference, where he also appears for the Smithsonian institution, the National museum, the American Ornithologists' union and the Audubon organization. Delegations from Egypt, Australia, Brazil, Bulgaria, Greece, Japan, Java, Palestine, Switzerland, South Africa and the Canary Islands have also come to Berlin to voice the common need of their countries for international measures to check the destruction of their valuable bird species.

Three entire sections of the deliberations of the International Ornithological congress are being devoted to the discussion of the protection, care, preservation and naturalization of the birds of the world. Careful consideration of anatomy, biology, oology, geography and paleontology from the ornithological standpoint is being given by the nations' leading experts on bird life. "Some Reasons Why Bird Protection Is Necessary" and "A History of the Audubon Movement in North America," introduced by Mr. Dutcher, as well as "State Organization for the Practical Protection of Birds," "The Necessity of Stopping the Importation of Feathers by Bird Protective Societies" and "Hunting and Bird Protection," introduced by the delegates of foreign nations, are some of the subjects that will be taken up by the representatives of the nations, who are being entertained in the capital city of the kaiser.

"Americans may be assured that as much progress toward bird protection can be reported from this country as from any of the civilized countries of the earth," said Mr. Dutcher, before leaving this city for the Berlin conference. "I feel sure that the other nations will look to us to take a leading part in the proposed international movement to save the valuable bird species from destruction. The people of the world are coming to realize the immediate need for preserving the birds that check crop pests and pestilence in every land. By concerted action I believe much can be accomplished toward this end, which, next to the cause of the peace movement, is now conceded to be the most important international question."

GREAT COTTON CROP

Texas Now Looking Forward to a Great Harvest of Staple.

San Antonio, Texas, June 2.—With 90 per cent of her cotton up, an increase of acreage of six per cent, and a stand reaching the high average of 102, Texas may look forward to one of the most successful cotton years in her history. The cold and wet spells which in the states east of the Mississippi were intense enough to do a great deal of harm to the young cotton plants were tempered considerably by the time they reached Texas and especially the southwestern part of the state, and for this reason became beneficial rather than hurtful, resulting for the greater part in heavy rains with hail in small areas.

Northern Mexico will also have a fine cotton crop this year. A very conservative estimate places the number of bales to be expected from the Laguna district at no less than 300,000, and continued favorable conditions may add to this considerably. The acreage in this district has been greatly increased and a copious rainfall and general recourse to irrigation from the Nazas river and wells have practically placed this year's crop beyond all hazards.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can have your money back. The tablets cleanse and invigorate the stomach, improve the digestion, regulate the bowels. Give them a trial and get well. Sold by all dealers.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to the editor of this paper, and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They begin to feel better, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form. It cures the liver, cures sick headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Oscar Aaron, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 309 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

THE BEST
S.S.S. SPRING TONIC

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and healthy, need a tonic and blood purifier in the Spring. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. Winter life with its decreased amount of outdoor exercise, and the fact that cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the proper amount of waste and refuse matter from being expelled from the system. These impurities entering the circulation have thinned and weakened the blood, and the body therefore does not receive a sufficient amount of blood nourishment. The general bodily weakness, tired feeling, sickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how anemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, etc., break out and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation. S. S. S. is the best Spring tonic, because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It is the only medicine on which you can rely to supply the system with the needed tonic effects and at the same time purify and enrich your blood. The use of S. S. S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the late, hot Summer. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks; it is Nature's tonic, pure and healthful. It regulates digestion, tones up the stomach, improves the appetite and promotes strong, vigorous health. This will be your best Spring season if you use S. S. S. for your tonic.

NEWS OF THE RAIL

ENJOINED LINES MAY BEGIN POLICY OF RIGID RETRENCHMENT NOW.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Chicago, Ill., June 2.—Western railroad presidents have been completely stunned and mystified by the sudden action of the government with respect to the increase in the commodity rates. After hasty conferences, which were called here early in the day, the statement was made that the restraining order of the federal court would be obeyed to the letter, but that it meant a rigid retrenchment by the railroads in the west.

If the railroad presidents do not change their minds, orders for equipment and power and for supplies will be cancelled to the aggregate of many millions of dollars. In addition to this, betterments and extensions which have been planned will be held up wherever they have not proceeded so far that it would entail a greater loss to check them than to continue them. With respect to the restraining order of the court and possible future prosecutions for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, the railroad presidents seem to have no fear.

They all express the belief that their freight associations are legal and that all of their acts with respect to the making of rates will stand the test of the courts. Neither do they fear that prosecutions for violations of the injunction granted in 1897 in the Trans-Missouri Freight association case will be effective.

Shirk, commercial agent, left this morning for Jefferson City, where they will meet the Commercial Travelers' special train, carrying delegates from the Southwest Missouri drummers' meeting at Sikeston, Mo., to Kansas City. The train will pass through Sedalia this evening.

WOMAN TELLS ON CHIEF

Once Saw Kohler Drinking Wine in Disorderly House, She Says.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 2.—The second day of the trial of Chief of Police Fred Kohler, Cleveland's "Golden Rule Chief," on charges of immorality, intoxication and insult, today, was favorable for the defense.

The prosecution put upon the stand their star witness, a woman who was expected to prove the more serious charge of immorality. In substance all the testimony she gave was that she had once seen Chief Kohler drinking wine in a disorderly house.

The next most important witness was Patrick J. Brown, a former policeman of Muncie, Ind., and one of the two men who signed the charges against the accused official. Brown complained that on one occasion when his automobile had been stolen, Kohler refused to listen to his complaint and had ordered him out of his office. On cross examination he admitted he had bet money on the result of the trial and that he had also made a bet of $20 in January that he would "get Kohler yet."

MRS. DOXEY TESTIFIES

Denies Killing Erder and Explains Strangs Acts to Morphine Use.

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—Mrs. Dora E. Doxey, accused of poisoning William J. Erder, took the witness stand in her own defense today.

She denied emphatically all connection with the death of Erder, and excusing her other acts on the ground that she was a victim of the morphine habit.

The defense's attorneys announced this morning that they expect to complete their side of the case today. In that event argument of counsel will probably begin tomorrow and the case reach the jury Saturday.

Saloon Thought No. 48

"KNOW WHEN TO STOP."

Every drunkard that has ever lived has said that. The 100,000 drunkards who will go to drunkards' graves in 1910 once said that. Do you suppose Edgar Allen Poe ever thought when quaffing his first glass with that old Virginia gentleman, that his last words would be: "Take thy head from out my heart, take thy form from off my door, quoth the raven nevermore?" Do you suppose the gifted and brilliant Kentucky orator, climbing the ladder of fame round by round, ever thought that his last words would be: "And this is the end. Tom Marshall's dying, dying under a borrowed sheet, in a borrowed bed, in a house furnished by charity, and without a decent suit of clothes in which to be buried?" The trouble is, as a man continues the habit of drink, every brake in his nature gets out of order and he loses the power to stop.

ONCE LIVED IN SEDALIA

Col. Joseph H. Green, Who Died in Jefferson City May 29.

The Capital News of Jefferson City contains an account of the death of Col. Joseph H. Green, of that city, who passed away May 29. Col. Green was at one time a resident of Sedalia, at which time he was engaged in the real estate business. Many old-timers will learn of his demise with sincere sorrow. The Capital News said:

Col. Joseph H. Green passed away yesterday morning at 4:30, after a brief illness caused by a complication of valvular heart disease and kidney trouble.

Col. Green was born in Troy, Mo., April 12, 1842. When he was not yet of age he enlisted in the Confederate army and served four years. In 1866 he came to Jefferson City and engaged in the real estate business. In 1868 he married Eliza McHenry. Of this union three children were born, all of whom are living, Miss Mahel, of this city; Percy Green, of Mexico, Mo., and Mrs. S. J. Twyman, of Hamilton, Ohio. At the time of Mrs. Green's death, May 30, 1894, Col. Green was living in Sedalia. In 1896 he married Miss Emma McHenry, and they have made their home in Jefferson City. At the time of his death Col. Green was engaged in the real estate and insurance business. As a business man he was ever alert and ready to help any public enterprise.

CAPT FAST A CANDIDATE

Well Known Lawyer Declares for Judge of the Probate Court.

Captain Wilson A. Fast, a veteran of the Civil war and a well known and leading lawyer of Sedalia, today makes known his candidacy for the nomination for the office of judge of the probate court, and his formal declaration appears in this issue of the Democrat-Sentinel.

Captain Fast is a republican and solicits the support of his party members in his aspirations.

The republican party could not have better representation for this particular office than Captain Fast. He is a lawyer, regularly educated in law, experienced in probate matters, is careful, courteous and obliging, and in fact possesses every qualification required to properly conduct the affairs of the office.

Captain Fast is a pioneer of Sedalia and Pettis county, having lived in this community for thirty years. He has never filled a public office. But in politics he is ever in the front and is one of the most persistent and consistent workers the party ever had.

More Gas Found in Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, June 2.—In addition to finding oil and a large deposit of semi-bituminous coal, natural gas in fair volume has been discovered near Rochelle, a small town in McCullough county. The gas came to the surface during the digging of a well for water. Two small gas bearing strata were struck near the surface, but at a depth of 200 feet a large vein was tapped. The product is of excellent quality and a number of other wells will be dug with a view of obtaining gas enough to permit its piping to the surrounding cities.
